Taxis in Belize

Published at ryde.bz/taxi (replaces ryde.bz/taxi-san-pedro, which should redirect) · Search title: Taxis in Belize, Ryde · DRAFT v2, 4 October 2026

Ryde books taxis in towns across Belize, starting in San Pedro, Ambergris Caye. Set where you are and where you are going, see the fare, and a driver comes to you.

How it works

1. Open Ryde and tap Where to?
2. Choose your pickup, whether your location, the airstrip, the water taxi dock or your hotel, and your destination.
3. See the fare before you book, then confirm.
4. Follow your driver on the map until they arrive.

Made in Belize to help Belizeans earn more

Ryde takes no commission from taxi drivers and adds no booking fee for riders. The fare you see is the fare. Every fare and every tip goes to your driver.

Drivers with their papers in order

Every driver on Ryde drives their own taxi and has shown a current taxi permit, a PSV driver's licence and insurance that covers passengers. A driver whose papers lapse cannot go online until they are renewed.

Golf carts on Ryde are rentals you drive yourself. They never carry paying passengers.

The fare

In San Pedro fares are set by zone. On the mainland they are metered at BZ$3 per mile with a BZ$7 minimum. A surcharge may apply late at night. The fare is shown before you book. You pay your driver in cash; card payment in the app is on its way.

Questions

How much is a taxi? It depends on the distance or zone. Ryde shows the fare for your trip before you book, so there is no haggling at the end.

Can I get a taxi from the airport or the water taxi? Yes in San Pedro: the airstrip and the water taxi dock are pickup points.

Are the drivers licensed and insured? A driver cannot go online without a taxi permit, a PSV licence and passenger insurance on record and in date. Ryde checks the documents; it does not itself license or insure anyone.

How do I pay? In cash to your driver. Card payment is on its way.

Can I tip? Yes, and the whole tip goes to your driver.
